International Commission for the Rights of Family Visits

P.O. Box 22455, Oakland, Ca, 94609, United States

March 8, 2009

U.S. Homeland Security
Mrs. Janet Napolitano

c/c United Nation Human Right Commission
Rapporteur Against Torture
Amnesty International Ombudsman

Dear Mrs. Napolitano:

We, the undersigned of this letter, respectfully request the US Department of State, the Department of Justice and the Department of Homeland Security to immediately grant Humanitarian VISAS to the Cuban citizens Olga Salanueva and Adriana Pérez, wives of federal prisoners René González and Gerardo Hernández respectively, whom, without any legal reasons, have been prevented from visiting their imprisoned husbands for 9 and 10 years.

We are aware that those two women have applied for visas on 9 different occasions. In each occasion, the State Department denied their request based on different arguments each time, without showing any legal basis that justified the arbitrariness of such a measure.

Amnesty International has denounced this situation on several occasions since the year 2003 reminding you that:

Article 10 (1) of The United Nations International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights that the United States has ratified: "All persons deprived of their liberty shall be treated with humanity and with respect for the inherent dignity of the human person" "4. Treating all persons deprived of their liberty with humanity and with respect for their dignity is a fundamental and universally applicable....This rule must be applied without distinction of any kind, such as race, color, sex, language, religion, political or other opinion, national or social origin, property, birth or other status." On January 17, 2007 Amnesty International once again denounced the rights violations of these prisoners to receive visits from their wives as "an unnecessary punishment"

We also want to remind you that on May 27, 2005 the United Nations Group on Arbitrary Detention made public an opinion declaring the detention of these persons as "illegal and arbitrary" and asked the US government to put an end to that situation, arguing the legal violations that they suffered and the lack of legal guarantees to a fair and impartial trial. Among other things they declared: "this is contrary to the Art 14 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights"

In addition, on August 9th of the same year three judges of the Atlanta Eleventh Circuit Court of Appeals revoked their sentences and asked for a new trial.

Currently, this case internationally known as “the Cuban Five” is in the process of appeals before the U.S. Supreme Court.

The Cuban Five were arrested on September 12, 1998. Since then the lack of regular family visits for these men have been an additional punishment. We know that the U.S. penitentiary system allows family visits several times per month, according to a particular prison’s rules. In the ten years that they have been incarcerated, these rules were never granted to family members of the Cuban Five.

The visas given to the mothers, wives and children of Ramón Labañino, Fernando González and Antonio Guerrero, have been arbitrarily delayed for periods of up to a year and a half in all cases.

In the cases of Gerardo Hernández and René González the rights of family visits have been violated. To deny these prisoners the right to be visit by their wives has become, with the passing of time, another form of torture and cruelty.

We ask you to put an end to this situation and to grant immediate HUMANITARIAN VISAS to OLGA SALANUEVA and ADRIANA PÉREZ and MULTIPLE VISAS TO ALL FAMILY MEMBERS

Sincerely,
